A subject index to contents of the PMA
Instruction Manual, prepared by the Organization and Procedure Division,
Budget and Management Branch.

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

SUBJECT INDEX TO PMA MANUAL INSTRUCTIONS

Explanation of Index - This index is designed solely to provide users of the PMA Instruction Manual the means of locating, in the Manual, information on a given subject. All PMA Manual Instructions are indexed not only under their actual titles, and principal modifications, but also under the principal subject contents of each instruction.

Scope of Index - The index covers all PMA Manual Instructions issued through the date of issuance and the PT (Procedure Transmittal) No. shown on the first page of each section of the index. Since the distribution of issuances varies by types of manuals and distribution codes, instructions referred to in the index may not always be found in the user's Manual, particularly if it is other than an "A" Manual. In such cases, reference to the Table of Contents for the user's Manual will quickly indicate if it should contain the instruction cited. When the instruction cited is not in the user's Table of Contents, it may be assumed that it does not apply to the user.

Maintenance and Revision of Index - The index is arranged by sections, corresponding to designated alphabetical groupings, and the pages numbered consecutively within each section. Complete sections will be revised and released periodically. Between revisions, index-supplements (containing new listings arranged alphabetically) will be released.
